

Miss Mae Instructor: Hip - Hop

Miss Mae was born and raised in Seattle Washington. She grew up with a big family, the youngest of 5 siblings. She has always dreamed of becoming a professional dance choreographer.

Miss Mae is a dynamic hip hop and majorette dancer with 5 years of experience. Her high energy and powerful stage presence has brought her to perform in Las Vegas, New Orleans, and Mississippi. She has made standout appearances at New Flex Zone, Black and Tan Hall, and Bubbin Brown. She continues to share stages with local artists.

She trained with Baile Dior Studios, eventually taking on a role with their teaching staff. She has also had the opportunity to teach dance and movements classes in schools such as Why Not You Academy, Campbell Hill, and Braemar Elementary. She continues to elevate her craft and inspire through her movement, confidence, and creativity.

Miss Mae is excited to join the teaching staff at Spotlight and share her energy and passion with the community.
